

A leading recruiter for the engineering and technical sectors in the USA

Combining motivational matching with technical excellence to drive future growth. We positively change lives through unrivalled organization of highly motivated resources

Client Review

"After months and months of trying to fill manufacturing positions with agencies, I decided to give Rise a chance. With us in Texas and the company based out of UK I wasn't sure what this would be like. I was very pleasantly surprised. From the first phone call I knew by the questions they were asking me, they knew what they were doing.

With their overall excellent follow-up, follow-through and solid qualified candidates, we are thrilled to work with Rise. We were able to easily hire 2 new employees for 2 different roles because of their expertise. So refreshing to work with them and there easy process, thank you!"

Candidate Review

"My experience with Rise Technical was outstanding! They guided me throughout the recruitment process, communicated thoroughly and was so pleasant to work with him. They are true professionals! I am very thankful for the amazing career opportunity that they found for me - a perfect fit for my skills and experience, and for all these reasons, I highly recommend Rise Technical."

In their own words

“Based on my experience to date, I would have no hesitation in recommending Rise Technical. They provide high quality staff to the brief and the contract team worked very hard to find and deliver the right caliber of staff.”

“Throughout my time working with Rise, I've found them to be professional and efficient, consistently taking the time to genuinely understand our business needs.

Their personal input and attention to detail are always second to none, nothing is ever too much effort for them and they are always willing to go the extra mile.”

“I have used Rise Technical over the last 12 months, being very pleased with the service provided. Rise have always been very professional and prudent in recruitment of candidates. I look forward to continuing a good working relationship with Rise in the future.”

“I would have no hesitation in recommending Rise to help with any requirements in the staff industry.”

“Rise have taken the time to understand our business and gain knowledge of the range of job disciplines we recruit for. Rise listens to our needs and strives to find the right fit for our business. I would recommend forging a partnership with Rise, their professional yet friendly approach has improved our time-to-hire on several key roles recently.”

---

“We have been recruiting through Rise for more than a year and over the last few months began to use them exclusively as the process was so much more efficient and successful than recruiting in-house. We have filled some key positions over the last few months and it is now making a genuinely positive difference to our business.”
